

Go Wild! Survival Skills for Business & Life

Produced amidst the rainforests of Costa Rica, this interactive audio CD program is upbeat, fresh, and loaded with natural humor that will keep your interest and provide anyone and everyone with the formula to achieve personal and professional goals!

In this exotic learning adventure, international Management Consultant, Rosemary Rein leads you with fun, skill-developing activities and teaches you how to apply the same skills used in wilderness survival situations to:

- Map out individual and team goals and chart successful action plans to achieve results
- Manage projects to achieve great success

- Plan for and solve problems and make better decisions
- Negotiate with friends and enemies
- Use timesaving techniques that will put hours back into your day and balance back into your life

Ideal for both personal development and team training, this interactive audio program is the ideal training tool for professionals, students, and entrepreneurs who have a passion for success and want to thrive in today's busy world. Learn why and how wilderness survival skills can enable you to not only survive, but also thrive in any environment.

BONUS CONTENT: Take a Stress Break with an added bonus track of inspirational quotations, set amidst natural rain forest sounds of Costa Rica, that reinforce the program's key learning points. Great for team meetings, morning rituals, and an end-of-day mental boost after a day of Survival!
